A MOTHER KILLS SIX CHILDREN

LAI D THEM ALL OUT ON BEDS AND THEN TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Mrs. Naramore, a Farmer's Wife, Enacts One of the Most Awful Crimes by Killing Her Babies With an Axe and a Club. Carefully Planned the Murder but Can Give no Cause for it—Similar Crime by a Father.

Cold Brook, Mass., March 21.—Mrs. Lizzie Naramore, while in a fit of insanity this afternoon, killed her six children at her home, a farm house, half a mile from this village, and then tried to take her own life.

The children ranged from 10 years to a babe of 10 months and their lives were taken by the mother with an axe and a club. She laid the blood drenched bodies on the beds, two on one bed and the other four on a bed in another room and then attempted to take her own life by cutting her throat with a razor. When discovered she was on the bed on which the bodies of the four children were lying. Although she cut a deep gash in her throat and suffered the loss of much blood, it is believed she may recover.

Frank Naramore, the husband and father, left his home at the usual hour today to go to his work at a saw mill and at that time his wife did not attract his attention by acting strangely. It is supposed the crime was committed shortly after noon, the discovery being made by George Thrasher, an employee of a grocery store, who visited the Naramore house about 2:45 o'clock for the purpose of delivering groceries that had previously been ordered by Mrs. Naramore. He was unable to get in the house by a door and he looked in a window and noticed blood on the floor, while Mrs. Naramore was lying on a bed. He was surprised also, in the absence of the children whom he was accustomed to see playing in or about the house. He returned to this village and told what he had seen.

A party was made up and a hasty visit was made to the Naramore house, an entrance was effected without delay and the mutilated bodies of six children in two beds were found. Mrs. Naramore was alive, but was very weak from loss of blood. Mrs. Naramore was removed to the village hotel.

During the evening a number of neighbors of the family saw and talked with Mrs. Naramore and to them she told how she killed her six children. At the time the party of villagers found Mrs. Naramore she was asked how she did the deed, and she said that she took the lives in four different rooms, and as fast as she killed one child the body was placed in a bed. The children were three boys and three girls—Ethel, 10 years of age, the oldest, while the ages of Walter, Charlie, Chester, Bessie and Lena ranged from 8 years to 10 months, Lena being the baby.

Mrs. Naramore told her most intimate friends tonight that she first killed Ethel, and then followed with the five others, each time taking the next oldest. Five were killed by being struck on the head with the back of an axe, while little Lena was killed with a club. She says she fully expected the gash in her throat would cause her death and that when her husband returned at night he would find all of the bodies in the two beds. She appeared rational this evening and displayed signs of sorrow for the deed she had committed, although she is unable to give any reason for killing the children.

When Mr. Naramore reached the house he was prostrated by grief by the loss of his family. Each of the children had evidently received several blows on their heads and were terribly bruised and blood was scattered in all parts of the room. Mrs. Naramore had evidently made preparations for the deed, as the doors were all locked and barred with sticks of wood.

At about 9 o'clock tonight Mrs. Naramore experienced a change for the worse and it is believed she will not live through the night. Her husband has been in the hotel but he has not made any request to see her, since his arrival.

SIMILAR CRIME OF A FATHER.

Clinton, Me., March 21.—Jacob Dearborn Marr, a farmer living eight miles from this village, killed his three children, Alice M., aged 13; Elwin, aged 9, and Helen, aged 7, with an axe, shortly after the family had arisen from the dinner.

Marr had been despondent for some time, but his actions were not such as to make his wife believe he had any serious trouble to brood him. The eldest daughter was washing dishes at the sink when her father went by her to the shed and got an axe. He came back into the kitchen and struck the girl a single blow on the head killing her. Mrs. Marr saw this and ran screaming to the house for her husband's father, Samuel Marr. The husband, apparently, walked up stairs to where the younger children were playing and dealt each a single blow with the axe handle, killing both. When Mr. Marr, Sr., came in the young Marr was washing his hands at the sink. He was asked why he had done the deed and he said: "I don't know." Later in the day he was placed under arrest and taken to Waterville.

Birthday Party.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Centenary Church gave a birthday party last night at the residence of Rev. H. K. Boyer. Each person present gave a penny for each year of his or her age, as an admission. A handsome cake was put up as a prize to be given to the girl who should receive the largest number of votes, the votes to be cast by the boys, and each vote to cost five cents. The cake was given to Mrs. Boyer, she receiving the largest number of votes. Another cake was put up at auction and was bought by a young man, who, his friends say, does not like cake and they are wondering what he intends doing with it.

The party was very much enjoyed by those present and from a financial point of view was successful. The proceeds went to the Ladies' Aid Society.

J. Pierpont Morgan Here.

A special car of five cars passed through the city today between nine and ten o'clock carrying Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and a party from Brunswick, Ga., en route to New York. The party spent seven minutes in the city, but could not be seen as most of them were asleep. The train was a very fine one and made fairly good time over this division. The party was joined at Spencer by Superintendent O'Brien, who will accompany them as long as they are in his territory. The Southern will handle the train to Washington City.

Mr. Morgan was South on business the nature of which is not known, but although it was a business trip, several ladies accompanied the party.

Prof. Pearson to Lecture.

Prof. T. G. Pearson will lecture at Guilford College at 7:30 tomorrow evening on "The Adoption of Animals to their Environment." The public is invited. Professor Pearson is one of the most entertaining speakers on the subject of natural history in the State, and though quite young has already made a fine reputation for accuracy of research and painstaking observation.

Bicycle Wreck.

Mr. R. E. Edwards, clerk at the lunch counter in Gresham's, while riding a bicycle on Summit Avenue yesterday afternoon collided with another wheelman. Neither saw the other until too late to avoid the collision. Both wheels were smashed and the riders slightly injured.

The case of Grimes Bros. bankrupts, which should have come up before Judge Boyd for trial today, has been postponed until April 12th, on account of the sickness of one of the attorneys.

GOLD BRICKERS HERE

SHERIFF PULLS THREE OF THEM

TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS AT THE COURT HOUSE.

Gold Brick Men Told a Weldon Man to Greensboro to Rob Him and the Officers Took Three of the Gang—Two Immense Bricks and a Set of Counterfeiting Tools on Their Person.

As The Telegram was about to go to press this afternoon, Sheriff Jordan and a posse of eight men had just returned from a point on Buffalo creek two miles below town with two gold brick swindlers in tow, and one has just been arrested at the McAdoo House. The three men are now having hearing before Squire Eckel on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, that being the temporary charge on which they are held.

The story of their arrest is a regular dime novel affair, and might easily be a chapter from the west instead of an occurrence here in quiet old Greensboro, where nothing happens more serious than a drunk and down or a game of crap.

In the possession of the men who were arrested in the woods were the two so called gold bricks, a complete set of counterfeiting tools, paraphernalia for disguising as an Indian, heavy pistols, and other articles which sharp crooks might carry when undertaking to work a game of this kind.

The plan, in brief, was to make a trade with some man, appoint a meeting place near some town, have a partner to meet him at the hotel, and conduct him to the meeting place in the woods, where the brick would be shown, tested, explanation of how it came into their possession made, and a trade made. The brick, they claimed was worth $20,000, but they would sell it for $1,500.

Mr. Paul Garrett, of Weldon, was the man they tried to sell it to, but they struck the wrong man. He secured two detectives, and with them and the officers here, laid a plan to capture the men. The plan was successfully worked out this afternoon.

Mr. Garrett met his man at the McAdoo, and went with him to the meeting place on Buffalo creek. Sheriff Jordan and his squad followed in the rear. Mr. Garrett began to trade with the man in charge of the brick, who was dressed as an Indian who could not speak English. The Indian proceeded to bore a hole in the brick to show that it was genuine. Mr. Garrett covered him, and the crowd came out and took charge of the whole shooting match.

At this writing it is not known what disposition will be made of the men. The man arrested at the hotel was a regular smooth duck.

TRIAL POSTPONED.

A further hearing of the case was postponed until tomorrow, the men being kept in custody.

Secretaries to Meet.

The secretaries of the different fairs of the State will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the McAdoo House for the purpose of arranging the date of the different fairs so they will not conflict, as mentioned in The Telegram some days ago.

The managers of the Fair Association here are actively at work and the prospect is for a much larger fair this year than last.

Sensational Shooting.

By Wire to The Telegram.
New York March 22.—A sensational shooting affair occurred this morning in Pabst's restaurant. Minnie Seligman the leading lady in the Prince of Peace Company at the Broadway Theatre, with John Leffingwell, of the same Company, was at dinner. R. Hayden Morris, the son of wealthy Southern parents, annoyed the actress. When warned to desist he pulled a revolver and shot Leffingwell in the side and another man in the back. Both will recover. Morris' home is not known.

Absolute Surrender the Terms.

By Wire to The Telegram.
London, March 22.—The English terms to the Boers were published this morning. They called for a complete surrender and demanded that all the Burghers take an oath of allegiance to the King and give up all arms and ammunition.

The Sultan Mad.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Constantinople, March 22.—The Sultan is furious because England has seized the seven islands of the Red Sea near Aiden. It is claimed that there was no warning or negotiations until after the seizure.

Quiet at Tien-Tsin.

By Wire to The Telegram.
Tien-Tsin, March 22.—All is quiet this morning. The Russians and English have withdrawn from the disputed territory.

A Begging Family.

There are all kinds of begging going on and the South is becoming a fertile field. Yesterday and today there was a family here, who said they came from Virginia. The father was blind and they were begging on the strength of that. The children handed around cards on which was a little verse about father's being blind, and then took contributions. One of the boys was nearly grown and amply able to work. They were all bright, and well dressed, and were worked on strictly business principles. One of the younger children said there were seven of the children but that all but three of them were at home with their mother. They appeared to be doing a prosperous business.

This may have been in part a worthy family, but they certainly prejudiced their cause by carrying a nearly grown boy, big and strong, with them.

Death of Mrs. Spencer.

Mr. G. W. Spencer, a well known citizen of High Point, died at his home this morning at five o'clock. A few days ago while at his store he was suddenly taken sick with a pain in the side. Since that time he has gradually grown worse till the end came. He was a Christian gentleman of pleasant disposition, and a member of the Baptist church, and his death will be mourned by the entire community.

Eighty-Nine Years of Age.

Today is Uncle Robert Sloan's birthday. He is eighty-nine years of age today and is in good health. "Uncle Bob," as he is best known, is a familiar sight on the streets, and always has a kindly word of greeting for those he meets. He is well preserved for his age and bids fair to live for many years to come. He was born in Rockingham.

Taken to Morganton.

The crazy man Dorsett was carried this morning to Morganton. While at the depot he was quite restless but it was not found necessary to handcuff him. Application to have him entered at Morganton was made some time ago, but the institution was full and he could not be taken in.

JUDGE CLARK ON THE STAND

ONLY SENSATION IS A PASS WITH EX-GOVERNOR JARVIS

Starts to Repeat Private Conversation and is Requested by Mr. Jarvis Not to Do So—Not Subjected to Any Cross Examination.

The court of impeachment met at ten o'clock and forty-seven Senators were present says the Raleigh Times.

Judge Clark took the stand. He said that he had been on the Supreme Court bench since 1889. He was examined by Col. Davidson for the prosecution. The witness sat on all the office holding cases. He was then asked to state the facts as he called them in regard to issuing the mandamus in the case of White vs. the State Auditor.

Judge Clark spoke very rapidly, but he stated substantially as follows:

"The first time the case came to my knowledge was December 12, and as was customary in such cases, a motion was made to advance the case, and it was argued on December 19, by Mr. F. H. Busbee on one side and Col. Harris on the other. No point was raised in the argument as to the issuance of the mandamus, the only question was as to the amount of the recovery. In the conference the judges said only the amount of salary was involved and I said 'that is a mistake; there is a big point in this case,' and stated it. Judge Furches said that no point of that kind was made in the argument. I said, 'You men decided in Gardner vs. Worth that the court could not issue a mandamus against the Treasury. The case was discussed in conference and the opinions filed May 20, which are printed in the reports. In the fall Mr. Harris came before the court and moved for a mandamus. Chief Justice Faircloth asked if he had served notice. He said no and went out. The clerk said upon inquiry to the court that he had not issued a mandamus. Judge Montgomery told Harris to apply to the clerk. Later Harris came into court with C. C. Cook and applied for the mandamus. He was asked if he had filed affidavits and said no. The mandamus was not issued."

"On Thursday, Oct. 11th, Col. Kenan met me and said that he reckoned he would have to issue the mandamus."

"I replied, 'This is a very serious matter, and you ought to let the court tell you so in my presence.' The court met in conference Friday morning. Colonel Kenan came in and said he was embarrassed by the conflicting opinions of the judges and wanted instructions. They were not forward in the matter and he polled the court. Judges Douglass and Montgomery were non-committal. Judge Furches said he ought to issue it, and Justice Faircloth said 'as an individual I say you ought to issue it. Judge Douglas then repeated about what Faircloth said. Col. Kenan was not satisfied, but after some further words he went out seemingly satisfied. I saw him later and told him that I did not think that the court was explicit after he had remarked in reply to a question that it seems satisfactory. I wrote an opinion that afternoon and sent it to Col. Kenan to distribute among the court. Later Col. Kenan phoned me that he did not think there was any use in sending the opinions around as he had decided to require a written order from the court. I told him this was an extremely important matter and I preferred that he should send my opinion around as I had requested, and he said he would."

SAW GOV. JARVIS.

"The next morning," said Judge Clark, continuing, "I met Governor Jarvis in the Supreme Court library and told him —" At this point Governor Jarvis arose and said, "Do you think it is right to detail a private conversation between two individuals when the judges were not present, or —" "Not if you object, Governor," replied Judge Clark. "After this trial is over I have no objection to your publishing it." (Continued on fourth page.)

SMALLPOX REPORTED FROM HIGH POINT.

Is It or Is It Not?--An Old Muster Roll in Dr. Bur- ton's Possession.

Correspondence of The Telegram.
High Point, March 21.—Early this week there was a report in circulation that a negro by the name of Alford living just inside the incorporate limits on the east side had smallpox. Little attention was paid to the report by the majority of the people but since it has been officially given out that the disease is smallpox all have accepted the decision and thought no more of the matter as such things do not disturb the sleep of any one here. The negro resides in an isolated spot and there is absolutely no danger of this particular case of going further than it is now.

Friday evening the sanctificationist, in the person of Rev. Mr. Hodgkin will begin a meeting at Archdale.

The Bellevue Hotel will undergo extensive improvements. Architect Rose of Raleigh, drew up the plans.

Three young inhabitants of this place were this week sent to the county roads to work out fines occasioned by repeated offences. One of them has since been returned to his parents.

The Spinster's Convention will be held Friday night in the hall over J. A. Clinard's store.

Squire R. H. Hodson this week while plowing on his lands unearthed several interesting Indian relics. In a hole adjoining was found a lot of human bones.

Lindsay of this place, at Camp Daniels, near Garysburg, during the year 1864 and which is reproduced from a book he carried during the civil war. ## AN ANCIENT RELIEF

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of static or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Remedy would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

SOMETHING NEW

The UNIVERSAL VEGETABLE SLICER is unequalled for slicing all vegetables. The knives of this machine are of the finest quality of cutlery steel, carefully hardened and tempered and ground to a keen edge and the arrangement of the hinged lid makes it impossible to cut the fingers. It is adjusted to cut thin or coarse instantly by turning the thumbnut at the end of the shaft.

In other slicers but one vegetable can be sliced at a time, in the universal as many can be sliced at one time as the hopper will contain, thereby saving much time for the housewife.

Come in and examine them whenever convenient.

THE EMERSON PIANO

Stand by and don't you forget it. The State Normal and Industrial College, Greensboro, N. C., bought the same piano in 1896, 1897 and 1900. Dr. McIver, who looks carefully after the interest of the college, gave all the dealers and branch piano houses a chance to compete and a number competed by pricing their pianos, while others put their pianos by the side of the old and tried EMERSON, which came off victorious the third time. The Emerson piano will stand by and always gives that satisfaction that pleases the owner. Call and see them.

FRIDAY, MARCH 22.

Yesterday The Telegram contained a note from Prof G. A. Grimsley regarding the beginning of the work to give Greensboro a free public library. Professor Grimsley desires to raise $5,000. The Board of Aldermen ought to appropriate $1,000 for this cause, to be available when private contributors have given $1,500; and another $1,000 when an additional $1,500 have been so secured. This would make the amount needed, and the city could find no better way to spend its money.

FISKE'S INACCURACIES.

Among the New England historians of the present who are busily engaged in circulating deliberate falsehoods and careless errors, Prof. John Fiske, of Cambridge, has reached an eminence. He has recently published "The Mississippi Valley in the Civil War." In the Washington Post of last Monday, Gen. Henry V. Boynton reviews some of the statements of this book and finds over thirty glaring errors of fact. These errors, General Boynton says, could not have been made had the official records been carefully consulted, as these records are full and exhaustive, and yet in one book, an author of some reputation makes so many actual mis-statements of fact, that it is easily tripped up in thirty, to say nothing of inaccurate maps. General Boynton says:

It is not only the school children who are being imposed upon by erroneous histories of the civil war, but mature readers of the country are misled by authors of accepted standing to an extent which must astonish all students of the records. Indeed, there are at least a half dozen of this class, who rank as the high priests of American history, whose books upon the civil war are marred by such glaring errors as to wholly discredit them as authorities. Among this class Prof. Fiske, of Cambridge, who is also a writer of school text books, stands among the first in popular estimation. The object of this communication is to demonstrate that his work is exceedingly inaccurate when judged by the official war records. Since these latter are most complete for every important campaign and battle, and have been in print and accessible for years, accompanied with excellent maps of every field, there is no excuse for serious errors of fact. These volumes are 126 in number. They are chronologically arranged by campaigns. Every report, field dispatch, and telegram relating to engagements or campaign movements is printed, each with the most comprehensive index, in a form for ready reference.

A historian is supposed, above all else, to be a student of records. Intelligent use of these records would prevent serious errors. An author who writes erroneously on these subjects, either for school children or for that great public which must obtain its knowledge of the war from reading, not only commits a grave wrong, but is without excuse.

If Mr. Fiske is so utterly careless in dealing with facts so easily accessible, how much is he to be relied upon in assertions regarding obscure or controverted points? It is some consolation to know that the other side is getting to the point where it is not willing to accept every man'sipse dixit, simply because it may show up the South in a bad light.

It is a delight to know that the old Roman is to make an address in Greensboro on Memorial Day. The Daughters of the Confederacy are to be thanked for securing his promise to be present.

JUDGE CLARK ON THE STAND.

flishing it to the world, but it is not competent in this case, though I have nothing to hide. It is not evidence though," continued Governor Jarvis. "I'll not mention that, Governor," added Judge Clark.

JUDGE MONTGOMERY'S WORDS.

"The next I heard of the matter was on Tuesday, when the court met to file opinions, and Col. Kenan came in to secure a more explicit understanding from the court. He asked Judge Douglas and he replied, 'it is your duty to issue it.' Judge Montgomery said, 'I am bound to say you have no constitutional right to issue that writ.' Judges Furches and Faircloth said to issue it, and I said, 'You have my view and my dissenting opinion that you have not the right.'"

In reply to questions from counsel, Judge Clark said, "Just before Col. Kenan came in Monday, Judge Montgomery said to the other judges, 'I am bound to tell Col. Kenan that he cannot issue the writ. You have political parties behind you; I have none.'"

THE CORRECTED OPINION.

In regard to his opinion he said, "I gave them my opinion and they objected to a certain thing in it, one of which was the statement that the court had not ordered the mandamus issued. I started to correct it but found that it would take too much time and carried it home. Later I brought my corrected copy back and asked to have it filed and Judge Montgomery objected, saying he was tired of political opinions. 'My first opinion held that the court had no power to issue the writ and Col. Kenan was not ordered to do so. This latter was what was struck out, since the court had afterwards ordered it issued.'"

"Judge Douglas said, 'let it go in the obituary column;' I said all right, but it will not be my funeral."

Judge Clark says when he asked for his opinion back Judge Montgomery threw his copy at him; Douglas and Faircloth did not have theirs with them and Judge Furches said he preferred to keep his. The one with the changes made was his copy and the one that they would not let him file, Judge Clark said.

Judge Clark said in reply to a question: "I told the court I did not want them to get in trouble and suggested that they issue an alternative mandamus; then the Treasurer could reply that the Legislature had prohibited the payment of the claim and it could come up again at this term. They said the matter had been quarreled over enough and they thought he ought to pay the money. Dr. Worth called me in his office and said, 'You fellows have got me into trouble. You say pay and the Legislature says I must not: what am I to do?' I told him that the court had no power to so order. 'Suppose a magistrate should direct you to hang a man, would you do it?' 'No, but that is a criminal case,' he replied, and 'it don't obey they will put me in jail.' I told him they would not dare to do it, and if they did there would be three vacant chairs there. He did nothing that would be much compensation to him. I told Dr. Worth that was a private conversation at the time. Later Judge Montgomery said in court conference that I threatened Dr. Worth."

As to the conference of the court he said that some warmth was shown. On Friday when Col. Kenan went out he asked Judge Montgomery his opinion about the mandamus and Montgomery flew off the helve and said, 'I defy you.' I asked, 'what for?' 'You are trying to put me on record,' he answered. 'Well, I don't seem to be doing it very fast,' I responded."

"Yes, after Col. Kenan polled the court, Judge Montgomery did say 'that settles it.'"

NO CROSS EXAMINATION.

Mr. Osborne began to cross examine Judge Clark. After the opinion of the court in March there was no discussion until Harris came in and asked for a mandamus. Harris notified with verbal motion that the debt had not been paid. The clerk was sent for and asked if mandamus had been issued. The judges had been absent during the summer.

After conference among counsel for defence they said that they would not cross examine the witness further.

AN ITINERANT JOKE.

There is Confusion After All as to Who is Really the Victim of It.

This is a true story of a transferred joke that involved several people in all sorts of farce comedy complications, says the Kansas City Journal. It revolves around the home products show that was given in Convention hall by the Manufacturers' association. When the committee of the show decided to issue a souvenir programme the proceeds were donated to the woman's auxiliary, which is a correlative organization. The women were to solicit advertisements, and this they did. One of the features of the programme were the pictures of the officers of the Manufacturers' association, for which a fee was charged. The officers themselves cared little about having their pictures in the programme, but they nearly all consented in order to help the women out.

One officer of the association was out of the city at the time and some of his associates conceived the idea of inserting in the programme a picture of the manufacturer that had been taken a quarter of a century ago, when he was a young chap, and the clothes in which he had sat for the picture were the ones in which he had been married only a few days before. This picture was very old-fashioned and represented the subject as not quite up to date as regards the fashion even at that time. It was, in fact, the sort of a picture that staid old couples generally relegate to an obscure part of the family album and classify as an uncle who went to sea and was never heard of again.

The picture was sent around to the office of the women's auxiliary by the jokers, with instructions to run in the programme. This was done.

Here is the sequel: A week ago the manufacturer returned to town, and on his desk was a bill for the insertion of the picture in the programme. He looked up the book, and, sure enough, there was his picture, but, oh, how changed! Suspecting some joke, the manufacturer wrote a letter to the women's auxiliary in which he said such an insult had never been perpetrated on him before. He said that the picture in the book was that of his wife's first husband, and that to ask him to pay for it was filling his cup of humiliation. He added: "My wife always did love her first husband more than she does me, and now to think that you want me to pay for that picture is too much."

Having written the letter, he hunted up a friend whom he could trust and instructed this friend to spread the report that a horrible mistake had been made by the jokers. When the woman's auxiliary got the letter the joke was charged to them. They were horrified that so grave a mistake should have been made as to publish a man's wife's first husband's picture instead of the living one, and then to have sent the bill to the living one—it was too much, also. The women decided to sift the matter to the bottom, and they hunted up the letter instructing them to insert the picture, and learned that the picture had been sent by the Manufacturers' association by way of a miserable blundering joke.

Upon the receipt of the letter and the bill the friends began to doubt, and after a consultation it was decided that the wife of one of them should call upon the wife of the manufacturer and ascertain to a certainty if the picture really was that of her first husband.

Now the manufacturer, who had been chuckling in his sleeve all this time, had posted his wife on the complication, so that when the blushing better half of one of the blundering friends called upon her to diplomatically inquire about the picture Mrs. Manufacturer, with tears in her eyes, admitted that it was that of her first husband, and added that she wouldn't have cared only she loved him so much better than any of her other husbands. That settled it. When the friends learned of this they stood aghast at what they had done. The joke was on them.

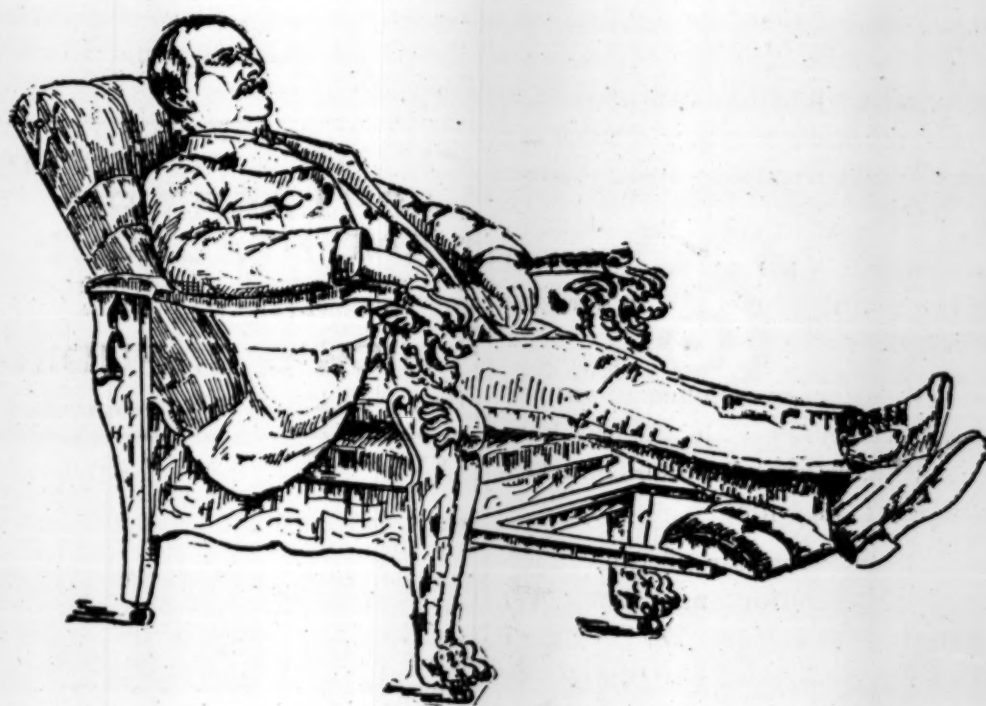

After the most earnest consideration the friends came to the conclusion that they could do nothing now to help matters save pay the bill and try to hush things up. This the manufacturer heard with exceeding glee. But a horrible thought crept into his mind. What if his friends really did pay the bill and hush things up, then there always would be the impression in the public mind that he was his wife's second husband, and then, too, he had openly confessed in a letter that his wife had loved her first husband better, and this had been substantiated by the wife herself in an interview with the friend's wife. What could he do to dissipate such a thought? Nothing save to tell the truth. This he decided to do, and the next mail brought to the women's auxiliary an explanatory letter from the manufacturer—and a check for the cost of the picture. A dozen people now breathe easier, but the question of whom the joke is on is now being discussed.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug

COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at C. E. Holton's drug store.

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM.

Vindicator, Rutherfordton, N. C.
The editor of the Vindicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. For sale by A. E. Holton's drug store.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by C. E. Holton.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought that she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying that it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

RHEUMATISM | CATARRH - DIS EASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

Mrs. Jobson at the Normal.
Communicated.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. G. M.
Jobson, Virginia State Secretary of Young Woman's Branch and National Associate Secretary Y. C. T. U. work, conducted an interesting meeting for the young women of the Normal.

One of the most interesting features of her address was the ribbon chart with which she illustrated the great need for the young people of today to enlist in the cause of temperance and purity.

Mrs. Jobson had the pleasure of pinning the white ribbon on a number of young women and we believe a measure of her enthusiasm was imparted to many. The Normal girls have always manifested interest in the temperance cause and they welcome W. C.
T. U. workers to their college.

It is hoped that it will be practicable for Mrs. Jobson to meet the young people of Greensboro before she leaves the State. Her excellent work at other places commends her to our hearty support.

Teachers' Meeting.

The Guilford Teachers' Association will meet at the court house tomorrow various topics. The orchestra of the State Normal College is expected to furnish the music. Everybody is invited.
